

Seller Quality of Earnings — Addendum

VistaPort Media Inc. — Seller Quality of Earnings (Addendum)

Document ID	DR-023
Prepared by / owner	Canton Street Capital
Date	22 January 2026
Classification	Strictly Confidential — Project Atlas
Adviser	Canton Street Capital
Basis	Seller-prepared

Seller Quality of Earnings — Addendum. Prepared by Canton Street Capital as financial adviser to VistaPort Media Inc., in support of the FY2025 adjusted EBITDA presentation. This addendum supplements the draft FY2025 financial statements and the adjusted EBITDA add-back schedule provided in the data room.

1. Purpose

This addendum sets out the basis on which management's adjusted EBITDA of $775m is derived from reported EBITDA of $612m, and explains why the adviser considers the adjustments appropriate and the underlying earnings to be of high quality. It is intended to assist bidders in normalising FY2025 performance.

2. Summary view

In our view FY2025 underlying earnings are robust and the adjustments are well supported. The principal normalising items are non-recurring and clearly identifiable, and the late-year softness in advertising yield reflects a temporary, programme-related effect rather than any structural change in the franchise.

3. Treatment of the account-integrity / Trust Reset costs

FY2025 includes approximately $34m of costs associated with the account-integrity programme (the Trust Reset initiative) — comprising staged credential-hygiene activity, incremental customer support and third-party professional fees. We are satisfied that these costs are non-recurring in nature: the programme is a discrete, time-bounded operational exercise, and the associated support and professional-fee elevation is not expected to persist into the normalised run-rate. We have accordingly treated the full $34m as a non-recurring add-back in the adjusted EBITDA bridge.

4. Normalisation of advertising yield

Advertising yield softened in the fourth quarter in connection with the same programme-related friction. For normalisation purposes we have restated Q4 delivered yield to pre-October levels, on the basis that the softness is temporary and yield is expected to revert. The effect of this normalisation is set out below.

Normalisation item	Effect on adj. EBITDA
Reported EBITDA (FY2025)	$612m
Add: account-integrity / Trust Reset costs	$34m
Add: other management add-backs (severance, legacy settlements, SBC, M&A)	$129m
Adjusted EBITDA (per schedule)	$775m
Memo: Q4 ad-yield normalisation to pre-October levels	presented separately

5. Quality-of-earnings observations

- Revenue is diversified across advertising, search, subscriptions and other services; no single advertiser exceeds approximately 4% of group revenue.

- Cash conversion remains strong and consistent with prior years.
- The normalising items are, in the adviser's view, non-recurring and well evidenced.
- The temporary Q4 yield softness is, in the adviser's view, not indicative of any structural impairment to the advertising franchise.

This addendum reflects the views of the seller's adviser and is provided for discussion. Bidders should form their own view. © Canton Street Capital. Subject to the NDA and clean-team protocol.